WHAT BRINOS ON MORE SMILES THAN A GOOD TALK ON "POLITICS"? That is just what Jo Westpheling and Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield were doing as the photographer caught them at a press reception at the Governor's mansion in Frankfort last Saturday. Mrs. Westpheling remained in Frankfort and Lexington this week to deliver an address to the State Convention of Woman's Clubs Wednesday and to deliver a talk earlier the same day to students in press and radio at the University of Kentucky.

'64 Farm Bureau Drive In Progress; Goal Is 500 Plus

The Fulton County Farm Bureau's 1964 membership drive is now in progress. Howard Bondurant, chairman of the Membership Committee, announced the drive for this week, January 20-25.

The official quota for Fulton County for 1964 is 500. The local Farm Bureau leaders, however, have indicated that they will not be satisfied with reaching this figure. Mr. Bondurant said, "We feel we will have very little trouble reaching the state quota. We have hopes that the membership will be 'way above what it was in 1963.'"

The FB membership dues continue at $10 yearly and, according to Mr. Bondurant, the annual dues represent increased service and more benefits than ever before in the history of the organization.

Harold Hewitt, president of the Fulton County Farm Bureau, has asked all farm people in this county to respond to the membership drive.

Obion County Farmers Urged To File Anticipated ASC Practices Soon As Possible

Farmers who have been considering soil - and water-conservation practices to be established on their farms with Agricultural Conservation Program cooperation: this spring and summer should file their requests for program assistance as soon as possible. The 1964 ACP was drawn up several months ago, and applications are being accepted at the ASCS County Office; request will be accepted thru Feb. 17, 1964. The sooner the application is filed, the easier it will be to obtain approval of the practice and take care of other program details before the work is begun. Under the 1964 program, cost-share program assistance averages about half the cost of carrying out such conservation practices as establishing and improving vegetative cover of grasses, legumes, or trees for soil protection; installing erosion-control structures; and practices for the conservation or more efficient use of water.

Radio Auction Raises $1250 For Fund Drive; Other Activities Also Help

"About" $1250 has been raised this year in Fulton on the radio Polio auction during the six days it has been aired over WFUL, topping last year's daily average, but falling considerably below the $3000 raised last year.

Mrs. Robert Batts, treasurer of the drive, told The News Wednesday that additional radio time this year is not contemplated. Last year 16 to 18 days were used in raising the $3000 total.

The radio auction transferred to Hickman for the balance of this week and for three days of next week.

The auction provides funds to be distributed equally among three beneficiaries: the Polio fund, the library fund and the park fund here. Additional funds for polio are being raised by weekend roadblocks being conducted by teen-agers; additional funds for the library and park are being raised through coffees today and tomorrow.

Mrs. Batts urged those who will send in contributions to do so as soon as possible, so that they may be included in the split to the library and the park. She plans a final settlement between the three agencies in the near future.

Wriggling Bass Lure fools Hawk; Hugh Barnes Reels in a Bird

The fishing season is a bit early, this 22nd day of January, but The News already has a fish story for 1964 that will be hard to top. It goes like this.

On Monday of this week the sun was out, the temperature up, and Hugh Barnes decided to take a little time off from his painting duties to try his luck for bass in a pond east of Fulton.

He unlimbered his rod and reel, affixed a "jitterbug" lure and let fly. He began to reel in, with the lively "jitterbug" dancing along the surface of the water.

A chicken hawk, seeing the wiggling lure and deciding to make an easy catch himself, swooped down, grabbed the lure and started off with his "fish", snagging his claw in the process.

From that point on, Barnes reeled the fighting hawk in by easy stages, landing it upshore and breaking its neck with his heel to keep from getting clawed.

The next and final step was to come to the News office with the creature and get a photo made to prove it, and here it is!

SEEKING IS BELIEVING: Hugh Barnes went fishing for bass and reeled in this chicken hawk. See story.

Weekend Fire Ruins Melody Restaurant

Melody Inn Restaurant, on Broadway in South Fulton, was badly damaged by fire early last Sunday morning, apparently due to faulty wiring.

The building is the property of Dyer Counce and was leased by Mrs. L. A. Sprayberry, who owned the contents.

The fire was discovered about 2:30 a. m. and the South Fulton Fire Department brought it under control about 4 a. m.

New Box Plant Announced For Martin; Wood-buying Will Benefit Whole Area

The Martin Brothers Container and Timber Products Company of Toledo, Ohio announced last week their intention to locate a plant in Martin, Tennessee, having an initial employment of around 250 persons and gradually increasing to a peak of 350.

In announcing plans of the industry location, the Weakley County Press stated that 85 percent of the work force would be male, and stated that Martin itself can supply only a limited percentage of this force, with the balance expected to come from its general area.

The firm uses No. 2 grade soft hardwood for its raw material and will need an assured supply of at least 1 1/2 million board feet monthly. Martin Industrial Board member Wilbur Vaughan and Mr. Miller made a tour of Weakley County to survey the amount of raw material available. Mr. Vaughan made a firm estimate that the county can supply 11 million board feet per month to the company. "The impact that this company can have upon rural areas of the county by its purchases from our farmers of a hitherto practically useless material surely is obvious to everyone," Mr. Vaughan said. "It can't help but have a most favorable result upon the economic prosperity of every part of the county."

Viron Beard, President of Chamber of Commerce, hailed the announcement with the following statement: "I would like to express my appreciation of the confidence the Martin Brothers Company has shown, not only in Martin but all Weakley County. This move is one of the finest things to happen to Weakley County in many years. The company will give a boost to the Weakley County economy both by the several hundred men it will employ and by the added income it will bring to farmers and other landowners of the area."

Mayor Doug Murphy commented: "This is what many people have worked long and tirelessly for. We feel that this will be one of the greatest economic booms for this area in many years. Not only will the city of Martin benefit, but Weakley County and the area as a whole will feel the impact."

The plant will be an $850,000 structure and will be located at the north end of the city just north of Radio Station WCMT on land extending from Highway 45E on the west to the I. C. Railroad on the east. The building will be a 190,000 square foot structure of masonry and metal.

Financing of the building will be done through a general obligation bond issue. It will require the holding of a county-wide referendum to give the county's voters an opportunity to vote upon the proposal. Call for the referendum will have to come from a resolution to that effect from county court.

What We Must Not Do

In a recent issue of The Reader's Digest, John Stroh and Cliff Ganschow—two top writers on agricultural and related subjects—dealt in considerable detail with "The Great Pesticide Controversy." Their purpose was to separate fact from fallacy—and to determine whether or not the food we all must eat is being poisoned by chemicals, and whether or not they are a menace to wildlife.

To begin with, they point out that "Without pesticides, food would have to be rationed. Housewives would line up to buy inferior foods, blemished tomatoes, scrawny potatoes and sweet corn pocked with wormholes." The price of most food items, according to one authority, would double. Chemical control of these multitudinous pests is essential to an abundant agriculture which can feed the nation at minimum cost.

What of the dangers—a vital question, indeed, in the light of all the controversy this problem has produced?

Messrs. Stroh and Ganschow do not minimize them. They have existed and, no doubt, will continue to exist—nothing in life is totally safe, witness automobile driving. But pesticide dangers seem to have been vastly exaggerated, in the view of leading students and scientists. Moreover, some $40 million a year is now being spent on pesticide research, in a hunt for better and safer compounds, and a number of dramatic steps forward have already been taken.

At the end of their article, the authors touch the big point. They agree that there is a need for stricter control and use of certain chemicals. But then they say this, and it goes to the root of the matter: "Equally important are certain things we should not do in the emotion of the moment:

"We must not sacrifice proven benefits because of unproven fears.

"Red tape and excessive regulation must not tie the hands of research chemists, who are urgently needed to help meet the greatest challenge of the 20th century—producing enough food for a world in which half of the people are hungry."

The 1964 Banana Festival Should Be A Dandy, But Everyone Must Cooperate and Work At It

Rarely a day goes by, a mail opened, or a visitor spoken to but comes some comment on the First International Banana Festival held in the twin cities last November.

Last week at the convention of the Kentucky Press Association in Lexington we were deluged with comments, questions and praises from those who were here and those who were not, about the Banana Festival and what an excellent undertaking it was... and what a good job everyone in the twin cities did to make it the outstanding success that it was.

We feel sure that every citizen hereabouts is proud of it and is quite pleased to have it spoken of in such glowing terms.

All of which point to one thing:

We Detect A Determined Clean-Up Movement Getting Started In The Twin Cities

In the wake of the recent editorial herein seeking a clean-up of unsavory and illicit conditions in the Twin Cities, has emerged a subtle but determined drive to clean up. We detect it during the past week in talking to individual citizens who are concerned.

That's a good sign, and we believe the movement will grow as time passes. A lot of people are working quietly at the job.

We have discovered that a whole lot of people know bits about things if we had 30,000 people here last Festival, we will probably have 60,000 this time because most all who were here will want to return, and those who missed it won't miss the second one. So the Second Festival must be fine indeed, and it is going to call for a tremendous lot of effort from everyone in the twin cities to make it fine... and as plans begin to shape up, and committees get organized and on the board, and projects get underway, a great spirit of teamwork must be firmly welded to put the job over. It's not too early even now, to think about it and help out when you're called on!

If you are pleased at all of the comments from far and near about the first one, try to be more pleased than ever over the success of the next one. Do your share to help.

here and there that need cleaning up, and are willing to help get the job done, and are starting to do it. And as the Sunday bootleggers, pep-pill dispensers and others are either taken into custody or silently fold up their tents and steal away, may public sentiment forever bar their return. Let's run two good, clean communities here and keep them clean and properly policed... and everybody can help, by reporting to the police anything they hear or see that can stand investigating.

Tanganyika, while Castro himself has fun in Moscow.

What our intelligence boys have been doing, we have no idea. But if all of these reports are true, the C.I.A. is overlooking a sure thing. Obviously, this is the time to invade Cuba. Nobody's home.

Kentucky Windage

By P. R.

Hello! If I'm not the best columnist in the world—which I am not—I believe I can at least lay claim to being the most erratic. As I begin again after a lapse of several years, I find that several years ago, I also began again after a lapse of several years, and so on back to this early days of arrival in Fulton. It's nice, in a way, to be a columnist in this fashion, and writing only when you feel like it and think you have something to say, and not writing when nothing will come out. Sort of like playing the piano, and being able to play regularly when the urge hits you to enjoy it and do something creative with it, or just for venting your feelings on it, be they happy feelings, or sad feelings, or lonesome—or indifferent.

Planists, like columnists, have a wonderful time writing or playing for a while, as long as the urge suits and the ideas pour forth, but when the constant, deadly routine becomes a drudgery that ties one down with a rope that chokes him, it's often terribly painful instead of enjoyable and that's the time to quit, which I have done in the past.

But there is always a lot that is going on around here that should be put in print somewhere, and I feel the urge to do it again so here goes.

Jo and I attended the winter convention of the Kentucky Press Association in Lexington this past weekend and in so doing I had my first opportunity to drive on the new West Kentucky parkway between Princeton and E-town. This new super-highway is almost fantastic compared to any other route this expense has ever had, and driving time to Louis-villa, via it, is a new experience for Fultonians. It took me just 3 1/2 hours to reach E-town from Fulton, and (via Ky. turnpike, Westerson expressway and the new Interstate east from Louisville) only another 1 1/2 hours to reach Frankfort... a total of only 5 hours from Fulton to Frankfort.

That is amazing. It used to take 6 hours just to reach Louisville.

To get on this new parkway from this end, just go thru Mayfield and Beaton, cross the dam, cross the Cumberland river, steer a straight course on the new road (which you will be already on) toward Princeton and just out of Princeton you will come to a fork indicating that the Parkway entrance is to the left. Once on it, you are home free. The interchange up at E-town is well marked and easy to navigate both coming and going.

Traffic is light and the road is all yours at 70 mph limit. A total of $3 in tolls is charged each way, and you will maintain your ETA better if you get yourself supplied with four 50-cent pieces for the tolls. Then as your car arrives at the toll plaza you can take the "automatic" lane, toss 50c in the basket, get the green light and take off without ever completely stopping. Ky. turnpike costs an additional 70c (50c at one place, 20c at the other) making a toll cost of $2.70 for use of these fast roads, each direction.

Only two cautions do I stress on this trip: 1) be sure your car is in good operating order and able to stand sustained high speed, because there are 1-0-n-g stretches of the new Parkway where auto service is just not to be had—and 2) be darn sure you have a tankful of gas or an extra can full, because its a 1-0-n-g distance between gas stations. If you can't make it from Fulton to Louisville on one tank of gas (I can't) you should fill up around New Eddyville and try it from there. I fill up at home and am able to make one of the stations on the turnpike, north of E-town.

This business of longer and longer stretches of turnpikes and Interstate is something of concern for the gas-tank if you want to keep from running out or taking time-consuming detours looking for gas, and I wonder if auxiliary tanks holding an additional 20 gallons or so might not be a coming optional on new cars soon. I know of several cars hereabouts that have already been equipped with auxiliary tanks.

Other convention items of interest: All three top officers of the KPA happen to be Republicans, and that may be a "first." Of course there is no party affiliation involved in the offices, but if there were you KNOW that couldn't happen!... People love to sing, and thank goodness you can't sing this rock-n-roll stuff. After the band went home Friday I guess I played two hours for community singing of the GOOD old tunes and we all had a fine time... Sandy Wood (Ky. Report, Louisville) is a nice, jovial Irishman and I met him for the first time. Back several years ago he and I had it "out" in this column and his paper but that's all water over the dam now... Smith's Cafe in Fulton lingers on as a pleasant memory to lots of former diners who occasionally visited Fulton. One such is the bass fiddle player with the Dave Parry orchestra in Lexington, who fondly recalled the "sizzling steaks" he used to get here (Smith's has been closed for several years)...

Fulton's "Banana Festival" was a regular topic of quizzing for us to talk about, and around the State it has certainly been well talked about and can expect a big bunch of additional visitors this year.

As one drives up this West Ky. Parkway one passes miles and miles of desolate, forlorn country that is the aftermath of strip-mining operations and fit for nothing. Such was the reason that Landon Wills, Calhoun, introduced a resolution before the convention seeking organized reclamation of these lands for useful purposes again. The resolution provoked a spirited debate as to the extent of reclamation that should be urged, and caused some bitter comment on strip-mining in general. Larry Stone, whose Central City is in the middle of all this area, and ever-mindful of payrolls and present economic conditions, stopped the whole thing with "Strip mining is like bad breath. It's not good, but it's better than no breath at all."

With that, the resolution was tabled.

Telephone Talk

BY JIM CHAMPION

YOUR SOUTHERN BELL MANAGER

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS, you had to crank both cars and telephones to get them working. And when the car finally started after much effort, you bounced down the street. The same way with the telephone—after much effort you got your party, but you had to yell at each other to be heard. Cars and telephones have both come a long way since their beginnings. Example—in 1920 it cost over $6.00 to make a station-to-station call to a city 1,000 miles away. The average Long Distance call took about 14 minutes to put through. Today, you can call 1,000 miles in a matter of seconds and all for less than $1.00. How's that for progress?

POEM FOR NEW YEAR'S DAY...

May we suggest a resolution
You can keep throughout the year?
Stay in touch with all your relatives
And friends—both far and near.
It's really very easy
And the purpose of this "poem"
Is to point out the convenience
Of your handy telephone!

(The rhyme may not be very good, but we think the suggestion is!)

DID YOU KNOW NETWORK TELEVISION comes to your home via Long Distance telephone lines? By last year, telephone cables brought television programs to about 500 TV stations in 320 cities in the U. S.

CHEVY-VAN!

Chevrolet's new low-cost quality delivery truck!

This introduces you to Chevy-Van—our new economy delivery truck.

It has a low price tag, over 40 sq. ft. of completely usable flat floor 7½ ft. long, the engine up front, and a lot of quality features which make it a better buy. The body and frame-floor are welded together. The truck is strong, rigid, stable. Doors are double-wall construction.

Chevy-Van has unusual resistance to rust and corrosion. Especially vulnerable areas such as front stepwells are galvanized. Sealers are used at all critical joints inside and out. Certain sections are treated with high-zinc-content primers; others with an aluminum-wax preservative.

The windshield is a big flat practical one-piece unit. The big 90-hp 4-cylinder standard engine is more powerful than some 66, yet is remarkably economical. If you need more power, Chevy-Van offers a 120-hp six at extra cost. Side doors and rear windows also cost extra.

Last but not least, it's a Chevrolet. Which means that it is built to work for you a long time at minimum cost.

Telephone your Chevrolet dealer about Chevy-Van or any type of truck!

SOUTH FULTON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Bonnie Weeks

Due to a change in the South Fulton basketball schedule, the basketball teams will have a thirteen day vacation. This rest is well appreciated because South Fulton has had a pretty heavy ball schedule. The Greenfield game will not be played because of a cancellation, and the Fulton County game has been previously played.

This last week has provided much thrilling entertainment as the Devils defeated Obion Central 30-24, were defeated by Union City in a very close game by the score of 40-41, and defeated Palmersville 39-34. The Devils were defeated by Central, Union City, and Palmersville, though they played hard; it seemed they just couldn't come out ahead.

Freida Mansfield and Clayburn Peoples, captains of the basketball teams, took part in the last week's P. T. A. meeting. Both helped to tell of the importance of physical fitness.

March 10, 1964, is the date for the National Merit Scholarship Contest. This is a test for high school juniors only. Many South Fulton juniors are taking this test. Sure hope you do real well.

This year the junior honor students are as follows: Vava Finch, Patricia Connell, Karen Friedla, Brenda Bennett, Betty Malary, and Charles Colley. They are in order as they stand at the present.

In the senior class other than valedictorian and salutatorian, the remaining honor students are as follows: Patrick Hyland, Jo Margaret Powell, Lou Ella Ray, and Jackie Graves.

WMU At Crutchfield Welcomes Two Additions

The Nell Hardy W. M. U. of the Crutchfield Baptist Church met the night of January 14 in the church for its regular meeting. The program, given by Mrs. J. C. Jackson and Mrs. Doris Dockery, was on "Southern Baptists in the Northwest and Midwest." The devotional was given by the pastor, Rev. James Holt. Others on the program were Mrs. Lewis Patrick, Paul Bradley, James Holt and J. C. Jackson.

The business session was presided over by Miss Marie Moore, with roll call and treasurer's report by Mrs. Cloyce Johnston.

Two new members, Mrs. James Holt and Miss Martha Copeland, were present, also ten regular members and five visitors.

State High School Basketball Tourney In Lexington March 18-27; Info Given

The 1964 State High School Basketball Tournament will be held in the University of Kentucky Memorial Coliseum, Lexington, on March 18-21. The first tournament session will be on Wednesday evening, and there will be three sessions on Thursday, two on Friday, and two on Saturday. The Friday and Saturday sessions will be held in the afternoons and evenings.

On or after February 1, 1964, State Tournament Ticket Sales, Box 1173, Lexington, Kentucky, will accept mail orders for complete sets of tournament tickets. Orders with earlier postmarks will receive a lower priority rating than those mailed on February 1. These orders will be filled after the schools have received the tickets allotted to them under the plan of distribution set up by the K. H. S. A. A. Board of Control. The school orders will take all the box seats, all the seats at the sides of the floor below the walkways, and the chair seats lower down above the walkways. The only seats available will be in the north end bleachers, high in the chair sections, and in the balcony.

The price of tickets calling for chair seats above the walkways and bleacher seats at the north end of the floor (Indicate preference on order) is $18.00 (6 sessions). The price of tickets calling for balcony seats is $10.00 (6 sessions). Each order must include a remittance of 25c for postage, handling charges, and insurance on the tickets, and checks should be made payable to State Tournament Ticket Sales. Orders for individual session tickets will be accepted after February 15, and should not be included with orders for complete sets of tickets mailed prior to that time. The Association will conduct an over-the-counter sale at a downtown location in Lexington a few days before the tournament begins.

PRIDE AND JOY!

Proud Father...you bet...this is my child...she's sweet, trusting, lovely and brings great joy to my life. I work harder in order to better my income so that I can provide for her. She thrills me, and already I am making plans for her future. Right now we are all dressed up and getting ready to go to church. I love her, and I want the best for her. I want her to know early about God, and that he means a lot to me, and I want God to mean a lot to her, too!

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Judge's Ruling Favors Fishing At Kentucky Dam

Thirty-three commercial fishermen have won a battle in Marshall County Circuit Court for the right to fish within 100 feet of Kentucky Dam.

Circuit Judge Earl Osborne ruled in favor of the plaintiffs who attacked the Department of Safety boating division's right to arrest persons fishing in the area which was restricted by a safety division order.

Judge Osborne ruled that the Boating Division is "hereby enjoined and restricted from any other and further acts of enforcement" of the regulation.

The plaintiffs, represented by A. Joe Asher of Benton, claimed that the restriction deprived them of a big part of their livelihood. They also claimed in testimony that there was no great danger in the area and that no fishermen have met with fatal accidents there in the history of the dam.
